

Special Deal on Flu Vaccines!

Vaccination plays a major role in helping to prevent serious disease. In the United States, the primary method for reducing the impact of influenza is immunoprophylaxis with vaccine. Vaccinating persons at high risk for complications each year before the onset of flu season is the most effective means of reducing the effect of influenza.

BENEFITS:

- Reduces physician office visits
- Reduces upper respiratory infections
- Reduces sick leave from work
- Reduces use of antibiotics
- Reduces health benefit costs
