The test for 90-day drug use history that starts with a few strands of hair

With HAIRscreen, anyone can collect a qualified sample—anywhere, anytime. Receive highly accurate, quantitative data on drug use for up to 90 days prior to the test date while reducing concerns of sample adulteration. All without handling urine.

- Highly accurate results—can detect up to 3 times as many positive users than urine
- More resistant to adulteration than urine—washing hair will not “dilute” sample
- Provides a 90-day history of drug use—demonstrating long-term drug use
- Yields significantly more information than urine, which only detects usage within the last 3 days

Finally, drug testing that removes the embarrassment for both the test giver and test taker
